- I created two route called assignment9 with function A9()
- I created new form with method=get action=\assignment9 with input of name that returns the matching job in the dictionary
- If the name is empty (this is the default value the variable gets) it will show all the dictionary (if clause in html that checks the name variable if name is not exist returns that not exist, if empty returns all dictionary)
- I created new form with method=post action=\assignment9 with input of username and password after submitting the form the session.username is updated with the username input and the session.logged in is true.
- I created new form(visible only if session.log_in is true) with method=post action=\assignment9_logout ,if form submitted change the session.username =' ' And the session.logged in to false
- Add to header if clause that check if session.loogedin =true and if so its add the username greetings to every page that includes the header
