- I created two new folders 'static' and 'templates'
- I updated the links in the html files to their new locations (img,css,js) with url_for(newlocation)
- I created a new html file which gets as a variable my name and list of dogs names.
- The html file returns the dog names with a loop and with capital letters (filter upper)
- There is an include statement of the header and block on the dogs names part
- The header has if statement that checks the page name
- Temp 2 html file Extends the assignment8 file and change the block with cats names
